

Celebration of Conservation
WhaleTimes Virtual Team Member Activity

Elephant Seal

Elephant seals travel far from shore to find food. Elephant seals hunt in deep water. They eat squid, rays, small sharks, and ratfish. Average dives are about 20 minutes long and 1,000 to 2,000 feet. Some dive deeper and longer. The deepest recorded dive is 5,785 feet. Deep diving seals stay under water up to 2 hours.

